

DO YOU WANT TO HAVE YOUR NAME IN A NEW BOOK?

We're developing a new cookbook to be published next year! We're asking children to submit recipes that have names of animals in the title, like Poodle Noodles, Elephant Stew or Pigs in a Blanket. All recipes must be edible. Unfortunately, not every recipe can be used but we'll do our best to include as many as possible.

Everyone who has a recipe included will receive a discounted book signed by the author.

Your name, and your school name if included, will be published with your parents' permission. Be sure to include all the details of the recipe, including all ingredients, assembly and cooking instructions, and any comments you want to include.

Return this message with your recipe, your name and address, and your parents' signature giving permission for us to include your name.
